

More than 1,600 AG staff earn over $100,000

Every year, the Ontario Ministry of Finance releases the names, salaries, and positions of thousands of public sector employees who earn more than $100,000.

The most recent list released earlier this month covers salaries for 2010. The Ministry of the Attorney General has the second highest number of government employees earning more than $100,000. Last year, there were almost 1,646 of them.

Ontario Court Chief Justice Annemarie Bonkalo's salary for 2010 was $281,672.77 with $4,178.73 in taxable benefits.

As for provincial court judges, the majority of them earned $250,149.81 with $3,708.44 in taxable benefits. Case management masters typically took home $189,811.37 and $320.88 in benefits, while many justices of the peace earned $115,111.72 with taxable benefits of $193.40.

In the chart below, Law Times lists, in descending order by salary, the top earners from the Ministry of the Attorney General plus a few others related to the law from other parts of government.

The rest of the Ministry of Finance's salary disclosure list can be found online at fin.gov.on.ca/en/publications/salary_disclosure/2011.

It includes the provincial judiciary, Crown agencies, universities, municipalities, school boards, and more.
